A FORECAST BY THE METHOD OF J.-B. MORIN

Bala Danmeri

The year from October 2026 to October 2027

BORN	PERIOD	PREPARED BY	PREPARED
Born 4 August 1973, Minna, Niger State, Nigeria · birth time rectified to about 23:05	21 October 2026 to 21 October 2027	—	2026-10-21

Dear Bala

You asked me to look at the year ahead, and you named four things: money, business, love and a life partner, and the place where you might finally settle. Those are honest questions to bring to a chart. I have tried to answer them honestly too.

There was a difficulty at the start. You do not know your birth time, and the method I use depends on it more than any other. So before forecasting anything, we worked the time backwards from your own life: your adoption at three, your arrival in the UK before Christmas at ten, your wedding on 10 May 2008, the birth of your first child on 6 October 2010, and the end of the marriage around 2022. Of all the hours of 4 August 1973, a time close to five past eleven at night fits those events best. I trust it enough to work with. I do not trust it blindly, and I say more about that at the end.

In short, I think this is a year in two halves, divided by your birthday in August 2027.

Until then, the chart of the year places its action with other people. Partners, clients, the person across the table, in business and in love. At the same time the Sun, which is strong in your chart and rules your house of romance, is coming to your Ascendant by direction. I read that as warmth returning to your own life and your own home, with its clearest moment around the middle of April 2027.

From August 2027 the emphasis moves. The next year's chart puts its Ascendant in your house of money and gathers the Sun, Venus and Mercury in its house of home. So the second half is about money and settling. In the middle of 2027, Saturn crosses your Ascendant. That is a weightier season, and I give it its own chapter.

Please read every date as a window, not an appointment. I give my reasons for each. If something here does not ring true, I would rather you trusted your own sense of it. The chart is a map. You are the one who lives in the country.

How this forecast is made

Morin's way of forecasting works in four steps, each narrowing the one before. The first gives the year. The second gives the month. The third gives a few days. The fourth gives the day. I only name a window when at least three of the steps point to the same matter at the same time. And underneath all four sits one rule: nothing can happen by direction that the birth chart does not already promise.

THE YEAR

Primary directions

After you were born the sky kept turning. Each degree of that slow turning carries a planet to one of the sensitive points of your chart, and each degree counts as roughly a year of life. These are the primary directions.

THE MONTH

Solar revolution

Each birthday the Sun returns to the exact place it held when you were born. The chart for that moment, cast for where you are, is the chart of the year. It shows whether the year will deliver what a direction promises.

THE DAYS

Lunar revolutions

The Moon returns to its birth place every twenty-seven days or so. Its chart narrows a month to two or three days.

THE DAY

Transits

The planets moving in the sky that week act as the trigger, and pick out the day.

What the birth chart promises

Before any timing, the birth chart has to promise the matter. Morin read each planet by its own nature and by the houses it is tied to in your chart: the house it stands in, the houses it rules, and how well placed it is. So here is what your chart holds for the four things you asked about, and for the self who has to carry them. These sections describe the life, not the year. The year comes after.

Money and what you own

Your house of money, the second, begins in late Taurus. It has no planets in it. So it is governed by its rulers, and both of them live elsewhere.

Venus rules it, and Venus sits in your fifth house, the house of pleasure, creative work, children and the things a person does for love. The Moon is its second ruler, by exaltation, and the Moon sits in your seventh house, the house of partners, clients and the public. So I read your money as coming from two places: from work you enjoy and put yourself into, and through other people. It rarely comes from standing still.

Both rulers are weak by sign. Venus is in Virgo, where it is said to be in its fall, and the Moon is in Scorpio, also in its fall. This does not mean poverty. It means money is not handed to you. It comes through skill, service and detail, which is Virgo's way, and it is easy to give away. My sense is that the old pattern here is undervaluing what you do, or giving more than you charge for.

There is one more thing, and I think it matters most. Venus rules both your second house and your seventh. In your chart money and partnership are tied in one knot. A good partner, in business or in life, tends to improve your money, and an unclear one tends to cost it. Hence why I would always keep agreements written down and fairly priced, however warm the relationship.

ON THE CHART

2nd cusp 26°23' Taurus, no occupants

Venus 13°04' Virgo in the 5th, in fall, rules the 2nd and 7th

Moon 0°47' Scorpio in the 7th, in fall, exaltation ruler of the 2nd

Business and standing

The Midheaven, the point of work, actions and reputation, falls in Capricorn. Its ruler is Saturn, and Saturn stands in your third house, in Cancer, where it is in its detriment. The third house is the house of speech, letters, communication, local dealings and short journeys. So your work is tied to those things: talking, explaining, connecting, moving between people and places nearby. Saturn there makes the work steady but effortful. Progress tends to come slowly, and sometimes against a feeling of being held back.

ON THE CHART

MC 19°31' Capricorn, ruled by Saturn 0°20' Cancer in the 3rd, in detriment

Mars 26°27' Aries in the 1st, domicile, exaltation ruler of the 10th

Jupiter 6°30' Aquarius in the 10th, retrograde, rules the 9th and 12th

Mercury square Asc (orb 0.38°), opposite MC (orb

4.66°)

Mars is the second ruler of your Midheaven, by exaltation, and Mars is in its own sign, Aries, in your first house, almost on the Ascendant. This is the strongest planet in your chart. I read it plainly: your work goes best when it is your own. Your own initiative, your own pace, your own name on the door. Working under others is possible, but Mars in the first rarely enjoys it for long.

Jupiter, the greater benefic, stands in your tenth house. It brings increase, standing, and work that guides, teaches or advises. But it is retrograde and not strongly placed by sign, so its gifts come late and after reconsideration. I think of it as a slow harvest rather than a quick one. Jupiter also rules your ninth and twelfth houses, so learning, distant places and quiet work behind the scenes all feed your standing.

Mercury sits opposite the Midheaven and in close square to the Ascendant. The mind is at the centre of your working life, and it pulls against your own will at times. A good business for you, I think, is one where you can think freely and act on it yourself.

Love and a life partner

ON THE CHART

7th cusp 24°34' Libra, ruled by Venus in the 5th, in fall

Moon 0°47' Scorpio in the 7th, rules the 4th; night chart

Moon opposite Mars (orb 4.33°)

Moon trine Saturn (orb 0.45°)

Saturn exaltation ruler of the 7th

Your seventh house, the house of marriage and partners, begins in Libra and is ruled by Venus. Venus is in the fifth house, the house of romance and pleasure. So partnership, for you, usually begins in delight: shared enjoyment, creativity, attraction. That is a good beginning. But Venus is in its fall in Virgo, and in that sign love can turn into serving, fixing or criticising. I think the lesson here is discernment. Choose someone you do not need to improve.

The Moon stands in the seventh house itself, in Scorpio. You were born at night, and in a night chart the Moon is the more important of the two lights. So partnership is not a side matter in your life. It is felt deeply, and it reaches into the body and the emotions. The Moon also rules your fourth house, so the partner and the home are tied together.

Two aspects describe the shape of it. The Moon opposes Mars, which rules you. That is the old tension between your independence and your need for closeness. It can make for strong attraction and for conflict. And the Moon is in an almost exact trine with Saturn. This is the steadying influence. What lasts for you is the loyal, patient bond, the one that holds with time and commitment, perhaps with someone serious or more settled than you.

You told me the marriage ended around 2022. I will not dwell on it, except to say that the chart shows the capacity for partnership very clearly. It has not gone anywhere.

Home, roots and where you belong

Your fourth house is the house of parents, home, land and the end of matters. It begins in Cancer and is ruled by the Moon, and the Moon sits in the seventh, the house of other people. You told me you were adopted at three and moved to the UK at ten. I do not want to make the chart say more than it does. But it is striking that the ruler of your home stands in the house of others. Home, for you, has come through other people. It still does.

And yet the Sun is in your fourth house, in Leo, its own sign. It is the strongest light in that part of the chart, and it rules your fifth house of children and romance. I read this as a deep need, and a real capacity, to make a home of your own. The life force in your chart is rooted there. Mercury shares the house, so home is also a place of thought and work.

Jupiter rules the fourth house by exaltation, and Jupiter is in your tenth, the house of work and standing. So I think home is secured through work. Put together: the place where you settle is likely to come with a partner, because of the Moon, and through your work, because of Jupiter. Not one without the others.

I come back to where in particular in the section on the year's chart.

ON THE CHART

4th cusp 19°31' Cancer, ruled by the Moon in the 7th

Sun 12°22' Leo in the 4th, domicile, rules the 5th

Mercury 24°11' Cancer in the 4th

Jupiter in the 10th, exaltation ruler of the 4th

The self and the body

Your Ascendant is in Aries, and Mars, its ruler, sits in its own sign less than two degrees from it. That is a strong, direct, self-starting temperament. You are made to act. You probably recover by doing something, not by sitting still. The weakness of it is haste, and a reluctance to let others help.

The Sun is the second ruler of the Ascendant, by exaltation, and it sits well in the fourth. So your strength is renewed at home, in warmth and in what you love. When home is unsettled, the whole self feels it.

This matters for the year, because both of the slow movements of 2027 come to this point. The Sun comes to it by direction, which is good. And Saturn crosses it by transit in the summer, which asks more of you. I take each in turn below.

ON THE CHART

Asc 24°34' Aries

Mars 26°27' Aries in the 1st, domicile, 1.88° from the Asc

Sun exaltation ruler of the 1st, in the 4th

The year at a glance

The year has one quiet direction behind it and two charts that frame it.

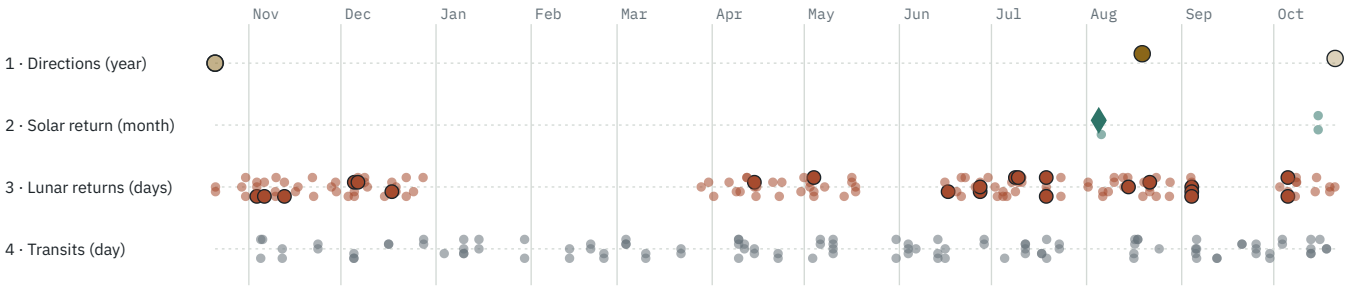

The direction is the Sun coming to your Ascendant by sextile, an easy aspect. In your chart the Sun is strong, sits in the house of home and rules the house of romance. So it brings warmth, confidence and some ease back to your own life. It came due in the summer of 2026, but it shows itself in steps through the year, most clearly around the middle of April 2027.

The first frame is the solar return of 4 August 2026, the chart for your fifty-third birthday, cast for Bruton. Its Midheaven falls in your house of partners, and its own seventh house holds the Sun, Mercury and Jupiter, with Mars close to its Descendant. So I think the first ten months are carried by other people: business partners, clients and a possible life partner. There will be energy in it and some friction too. Jupiter, your natal benefic, falls in that chart's first house. You are protected in it.

The second frame is the solar return of 5 August 2027. Its Ascendant falls in your house of money, and the Sun, Venus and Mercury gather in its house of home, with the Moon and Jupiter in its house of romance. If the first half is about who you work and live with, the second is about what you build: money, and the place to settle.

Two Venus directions run alongside. Venus rules both your money and your partners. One of them, Venus coming to the Sun, is confirmed by the 2027 return, so I take it seriously. The other, the Midheaven coming to Venus, is not promised by your birth chart, so I give it less weight.

The weather of the year is Saturn. It squares your Midheaven in April 2027 and crosses your Ascendant in June, returning in October. This is the harder part of the year. It is also, I think, the part that makes the settling real.

Each dot is a dated indication. Large dots on the first lane are the primary directions followed in this report; outlined dots on the third lane are the dates where three or four layers agree. The diamond marks the solar return.

The events of the year

These are the four movements of the year that the method points to with weight. Three are primary directions. One is a transit of Saturn, which Morin would call the weather rather than the event, but it is too large to leave out. For each I give the window, the four steps that produced it, how confident I am, and what I would do with it.

WHEN	WHAT	CONFIDENCE
Days around 5 November 2026	First stirring of the Venus–Sun theme: love, home and money	MODERATE

Warmth comes back to your own life

November 2026 to July 2027, clearest late March to mid-April 2027

MODERATE

The steadiest direction of the year is the Sun coming to your Ascendant by sextile. The Ascendant is you: your body, your temperament, your own initiatives. The Sun in your chart is strong in its own sign, sits in your house of home, and rules your house of romance and children. So this direction brings those things to you. Warmth, confidence, some ease in your own skin, and matters of the heart and the household moving in your favour.

It is promised. The Sun is the exaltation ruler of your Ascendant, so the two are already joined in your birth chart. That is what Morin required before a direction could bring anything real. And the aspect is a sextile, the gentlest of the five. I do not expect drama from it. I expect improvement.

ON THE CHART

Asc directed to Sun sextile sinister, mundane, direct, July 2026: promised (shared house 1)

Sun 12°22' Leo, domicile, in the 4th, rules the 5th

Lunar return 24 Mar 2027: return Asc on natal Sun (orb 1.72°), return MC on natal Asc (orb 2.22°)

Lunar return 8 Nov 2026: Sun on the IC (2.78° in mundo)

Agreements: 12 Nov 2026, 14 Apr 2027, 16 Jun 2027, 8 Jul 2027

The solar return of August 2026 does not repeat it, and that is why I call it moderate rather than strong. But the lunar returns repeat it several times, and very clearly. In the lunar return of 8 November 2026 the Sun stands on the lowest angle of the chart, the angle of home. In the lunar return of 24 March 2027 the Ascendant falls exactly on your natal Sun and the Midheaven falls on your natal Ascendant. That is about as clear a repetition as a lunar return can give.

So I think it unfolds in steps. The first is the days around 12 November 2026. The clearest is the days around 14 April 2027, when the lunar return, its own direction of the Ascendant to the Sun, and the Sun crossing your Ascendant in the sky all fall on the same date. Smaller echoes follow around 16 June and 8 July 2027.

What might it look like? I think something at home settles or improves, or a new warmth enters your private life. It might be a relationship becoming closer, time with your children that feels easier, or a decision about where you live that suddenly feels clear. It might simply be that you feel like yourself again. Because the Sun rules your fifth house, romance is part of it. Because it sits in your fourth, home is part of it.

I would use the April window for things that need confidence: an honest conversation, a first step towards a home, putting your own name forward. I would not stake much on the exact day. I would be ready that fortnight.

1	YEAR	Ascendant directed to the Sun by sextile (mundane, direct), due July 2026
2	MONTH	Not repeated by the solar return of 4 August 2026; repeated by the lunar returns of 8 November 2026 and 24 March 2027
3	DAYS	Return Ascendant directed to return Sun by sextile, 14 April 2027
4	DAY	Transiting Sun conjunct natal Ascendant, 14 April 2027

Love, home and money meet

First stirrings November to December 2026; main window August to September 2027

MODERATE

The second direction is Venus coming to a square of the Sun. Venus is the planet you would most want to see active, given your questions. In your chart it rules both your house of money and your house of partners. The Sun rules your house of romance and stands in your house of home. So this direction joins love, money, romance and home in one movement.

ON THE CHART

Venus directed to Sun square sinister, zodiacal, direct, January 2026: promised (shared house 5)

Venus 13°04' Virgo, in fall, rules the 2nd and 7th

It is promised: Venus and the Sun share the fifth house between them, Venus by standing in it and the Sun by ruling it. The aspect is a square. A square is not bad. It means effort. Two lives, two sets of money, two homes perhaps, needing to be fitted together, and work involved in the fitting.

Solar return 5 Aug 2027: Sun 12°22' Leo, Venus 10°25' Leo, both in the return 4th

Agreements: 5 Nov, 6 Dec, 17 Dec 2026; 9 Jul, 14 Aug, 4 Sep 2027

The direction itself came due in January 2026, before this forecast begins. In Morin's view a direction that the solar return does not repeat tends to wait for a return that does. The 2026 return did not repeat it. The 2027 return does. In the chart for 5 August 2027 the Sun and Venus stand together, within two degrees, and the Ascendant falls in your natal house of money. So I think the matter that was set in motion early in 2026 comes to its fullest expression after your next birthday.

The clearest window is the days around 4 to 5 September 2027, when Venus in the year's chart is directed to your natal Sun, and the Sun in the sky crosses your natal Venus. Earlier stages fall around 5 November 2026, 6 December and 17 December 2026, then 9 July and 14 August 2027. My sense is that the winter brings a meeting or a first opening, and the late summer of 2027 brings a decision.

What might it look like? A relationship becoming a partnership in the fuller sense. A shared home, or plans for one. Money brought into the relationship, or money coming through creative or enjoyable work. Because Venus is in its fall, I would add a correction: the square asks that you see the person, or the arrangement, as they actually are. Not as you hope. Venus in Virgo can serve too much. Let it be mutual.

I would treat the autumn of 2026 as a time to be open, and the late summer of 2027 as a time to commit to what has proved itself.

1	YEAR	Venus directed to the Sun by square (zodiacal, direct), due January 2026
2	MONTH	Solar return of 5 August 2027 repeats it: Sun conjunct Venus in the return (orb 1.94°), return Ascendant in natal house 2
3	DAYS	Return Venus directed to natal Sun by conjunction, 4 September 2027
4	DAY	Transiting Sun conjunct natal Venus, 5 September 2027

Business through partnership, and what your work is worth

December 2026, and June to October 2027

TENTATIVE

The third direction is the Midheaven coming to an opposition of Venus. The Midheaven is your work and standing. Venus, again, rules your money and your partners. So this direction touches exactly what you

ON THE CHART

MC directed to Venus opposition, zodiacal, direct, August 2027: not promised (no natal aspect or shared house)

asked about in business: income from work, agreements, partnerships, and the value placed on what you do. It falls due in August 2027 in the zodiac, and again in February 2028 in the houses.

I have to be honest about its weight. Your birth chart does not link Venus and the Midheaven by any aspect or shared house. By Morin's rule, that makes it a lighter, passing influence, not a major event. And neither solar return repeats it closely enough. So I list it as tentative.

And yet it is worth knowing about, for two reasons. The 2026 return places its Midheaven in your house of partners, so the year's actions already lean towards working with others. And the lunar returns pick it up several times. The lunar return of 5 December 2026 puts its Midheaven right on your natal Venus and its Ascendant in your house of partners. The lunar return of 14 June 2027 puts the Sun and Venus on its Midheaven and its Midheaven in your house of money.

So I would watch the days around 5 December 2026, and then the stretch from late June to mid-July 2027, then early September and early October 2027. These are good moments to discuss terms, prices, contracts or a business partnership.

An opposition sets two sides against each other. Here the two sides are your work and the other party's wishes. So the practical question is balance: what you give, what you ask, what is fair. Venus in Virgo has a habit of underpricing. If a partnership or contract comes up in these windows, I would ask for what the work is really worth, and get it in writing.

1	YEAR	Midheaven directed to Venus by opposition (zodiacal, direct), due August 2027; mundane, February 2028
2	MONTH	Neither solar return confirms it; the 2026 return Midheaven falls in natal house 7; lunar return of 5 December 2026 puts its Midheaven on natal Venus
3	DAYS	Return Midheaven directed to natal Venus by conjunction, 5 December 2026; return Midheaven directed to return Venus by opposition, 4 September 2027
4	DAY	Transiting Sun square natal Venus, 5 December 2026; transiting Venus trine natal Midheaven, 5 September 2027

Solar return confirmation scores 0.5 (2026) and 1.5 (2027): not confirmed

Lunar return 5 Dec 2026: return MC conjunct natal Venus (orb 1.68°), return Asc in natal 7th

Lunar return 14 Jun 2027: Sun and Venus on the MC, return MC in natal 2nd

Saturn crosses your Ascendant

April to October 2027, and into 2028

MODERATE

This is the harder part of the year, and I want to describe it plainly and kindly.

ON THE CHART

Saturn rules the 10th and 11th, in the 3rd, in detriment

Natal Asc 24°34' Aries; natal Mars 26°27' Aries

Saturn, the planet of limits, time, structure and endings, moves slowly through Aries in 2027. Around 22 April 2027 it squares your Midheaven. Around 6 June it reaches your Ascendant, and it returns over the same degree around 16 October, then goes on to your natal Mars. In Morin's scheme a transit is the weather, not the event. It releases what the directions prepare. But a transit of Saturn over the Ascendant is a long weather, and I would be doing you no service to leave it out.

Transits: Saturn square MC 22 Apr 2027; Saturn conjunct Asc 6 Jun 2027 and 16 Oct 2027 (retrograde pass)

Lunar return 1 Jan 2027: Saturn on the Asc (2.5° in mundo)

In your chart Saturn rules your Midheaven and your eleventh house, the house of friends, patrons and hopes. So it brings questions of work, ambition and support. As it crosses your Ascendant and your Mars, it asks things of the body and of the self: more structure, fewer commitments, less haste. You may feel tired, or heavy, or simply more serious. It is often a time when a person sees clearly what is no longer worth carrying.

This is NOT a sign of something going wrong. I read it as the season in which you lay foundations. It sits, after all, in the same months as the Sun direction and the Venus window. The good things of the year need something solid to stand on, and Saturn is how that gets built. The 2027 solar return places Saturn in its twelfth house, right on your natal Mars. So I think much of this work is quiet and private, done away from view.

I would offer three things. First, look after the body: sleep, rest, a steady routine. Mars in Aries tends to push through; this is a season to pace. Second, do not carry it alone. Saturn rules your house of friends, and this is when real friends and steady people show their worth. Lean on them. If the heaviness ever feels like more than weather, please speak to someone you trust, or to a professional. Third, use it for the structural side of your business: the accounts, the agreements, the plan. Saturn rewards patience.

The lunar return of 1 January 2027 already has Saturn rising, so you may feel the first of this in January. The lunar return of 1 October 2027 has Saturn near its Ascendant again and Mars on its Descendant. October 2027 asks for care in partnerships and in your own pace.

1	YEAR	No primary direction: this is a transit, the weather of the year
2	MONTH	Solar return of 5 August 2027: Saturn 27°51' Aries in the return 12th, on natal Mars
3	DAYS	Lunar return of 1 January 2027: Saturn and Neptune rising; lunar return of 1 October 2027: Saturn near the Ascendant, Mars on the Descendant
4	DAY	Transiting Saturn square natal Midheaven, 22 April 2027; conjunct natal Ascendant, 6 June and 16 October 2027

Month by month

A short guide month by month. Each entry starts from the lunar return that opens the month: where its Ascendant falls in your birth chart, and which planets stand on its angles. Then I add any window from the events above that falls inside it.

Late October to early November 2026

The lunar return of 11 October puts its Ascendant in your twelfth house, the house of what is private and hidden, with Venus, the Moon and the Sun near its Descendant. So you are quieter, and other people are in view. The days around 3 to 5 November bring the first stirrings of both Venus directions. Pay attention to who comes towards you.

Lunar return 11 Oct 2026: Asc in natal 12th; Venus, Moon, Sun on the Dsc · Agreements 3 Nov (MC–Venus) and 5 Nov (Venus–Sun)

November 2026

A warm month. The lunar return of 8 November puts its Ascendant in your fifth house of romance, pleasure and children, with the Sun on the angle of home and Jupiter rising. The days around 12 November are the first step of the Sun coming to your Ascendant. Good for home, for children, for a meeting of the heart.

Lunar return 8 Nov 2026: Asc in natal 5th; Sun on the IC; Jupiter near the Asc · Agreement 12 Nov (Asc–Sun)

December 2026

The lunar return of 5 December puts its Ascendant in your house of partners and its Midheaven on your natal Venus, with Mars on the Midheaven. Partnership and terms, in business or in love. The days around 5 to 6 December and 17 December are worth noting. Be clear about what you want.

Lunar return 5 Dec 2026: Asc in natal 7th; MC conjunct natal Venus; Mars on the MC · Agreements 5–6 Dec and 17 Dec

January 2027

The lunar return of 1 January puts its Ascendant back in your twelfth house, with Saturn and Neptune rising and the Moon on the Descendant. A quiet, inward month. I would rest, plan and not force anything. The first taste of the Saturn season.

Lunar return 1 Jan 2027: Asc in natal 12th; Saturn and Neptune on the Asc; Moon on the Dsc

February 2027

The lunar return of 28 January puts its Ascendant in your fifth house again and its Midheaven in your first, with Mars and Jupiter near its Ascendant. A livelier month. Your own initiative carries well. Good for something creative or enjoyable that might also earn.

Lunar return 28 Jan 2027: Asc in natal 5th, MC in natal 1st; Mars and Jupiter near the Asc

March 2027

The lunar return of 25 February puts its Ascendant in your ninth house of learning and distant things, with the Moon on its Midheaven in your house of partners. A month for widening your view, study, or thinking about places further away. Partners remain the aim.

Lunar return 25 Feb 2027: Asc in natal 9th, MC in natal 7th; Moon on the MC

April 2027

The home month. The lunar return of 24 March puts its Ascendant on your natal Sun in your fourth house and its Midheaven on your natal Ascendant, with Jupiter rising and the Moon on the angle of home. The days around 14 April are the clearest window of the year for home and self. Then, around 22 April, Saturn squares your Midheaven. Act early in the month.

Lunar return 24 Mar 2027: Asc on natal Sun, MC on natal Asc; Jupiter near the Asc; Moon on the IC · Best window 14 Apr (Asc–Sun); Saturn square MC 22 Apr

May 2027

The lunar return of 20 April puts its Ascendant in your eighth house, the house of shared money, debts and other people's resources, with Neptune and Venus on the angle of home. A month to read contracts slowly and keep money matters clear. Neptune blurs. Around 4 May, a small echo of the Midheaven–Venus theme.

June 2027

Saturn reaches your Ascendant around 6 June. The lunar return of 18 May puts Jupiter on its angle of home, which I take as protection there. The days around 16 June bring an echo of the Sun direction. Pace yourself, lean on steady people, and let home be your anchor.

July 2027

The lunar return of 14 June puts its Midheaven in your house of money, with the Sun and Venus on it. Money and work are made visible. The days around 27 June to 18 July carry several windows at once: the Midheaven–Venus theme, the Sun direction, and Venus–Sun. A good stretch for business terms. The lunar return of 11 July has Uranus on its Descendant, so partnerships may shift without warning late in the month.

August 2027

Your birthday opens the new year's chart on 5 August, with its Ascendant in your house of money and the Sun, Venus and Mercury in its house of home. The lunar return of 8 August repeats it, with the Sun and Venus right on the angle of home. Money and settling come forward. The days around 14 and 21 August are steps towards September.

Solar return 5 Aug 2027: Asc in natal 2nd; Sun, Venus, Mercury in the return 4th · Lunar return 8 Aug 2027: Sun and Venus on the IC · Agreements 14 Aug (Venus–Sun), 21 Aug (MC–Venus)

September 2027

The lunar return of 4 September puts its Midheaven in your house of home. The days around 4 to 5 September are the main window for love, home and money meeting. If there is a commitment to make, this is when I would make it.

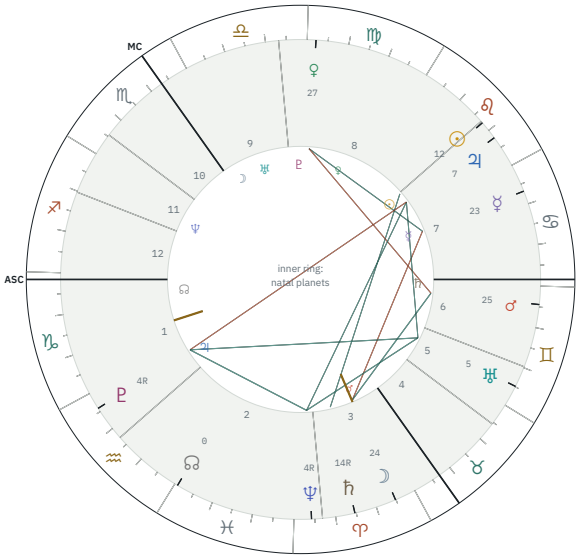

Lunar return 4 Sep 2027: Asc in natal 6th, MC in natal 4th · Best window 4 Sep (Venus–Sun and MC–Venus)

October 2027

The lunar return of 1 October puts its Ascendant in your first house and its Midheaven in your tenth, with Mars on its Descendant and Saturn near its Ascendant. Saturn crosses your Ascendant a second time around 16 October. A month of standing your ground, with care in partnerships. Around 5 October, the Midheaven–Venus theme one last time this year.

A solar return is the chart for the moment the Sun comes back to its birth place. Morin read it as the chart of the year, always against the birth chart, and always cast for where the person is. This forecast spans two of them, both cast for Bruton.

The first came at 18:34 on 4 August 2026. Its Ascendant falls in your ninth house, the house of learning, beliefs and distant places. So I think the year's main field is a widening of view: what you believe, what you study, how far you look. Its Midheaven falls in your seventh house, the house of partners. What the year works towards is carried by other people. The Sun, Mercury and Jupiter all stand in its own seventh house, and Mars is close to its Descendant. So partnerships, in business and in love, are the stage, with energy and some friction. Your natal Jupiter falls in that chart's first house. I read it as protection for you through the year.

The second comes at 00:18 on 5 August 2027. Its Ascendant falls in your second house, the house of money. Its Midheaven falls in your tenth, your own house of work. And the Sun, Venus and Mercury gather in its fourth house, the house of home, with the Moon and Jupiter in its fifth, the house of romance. I find this an encouraging chart for what you asked about. Money, work, home and love are all in their right places. The difficulty is Saturn, in its twelfth house and on your natal Mars. Some of the year's work will be private and tiring. Uranus near its Ascendant suggests a change in how you present yourself or earn.

So the two charts make a sequence. First, other people. Then, what you build.

Morin taught that the place where you spend your birthday changes the year's chart. For August 2027, Bruton already gives a good chart for your questions: its Ascendant in your house of money. The east of England, around Norwich, keeps that and adds Mercury near the angle of home, a small gain. The strongest places I found are in central Europe and Italy. In Florence or Munich the Sun and Venus fall almost exactly on the angle of home in the 2027 chart: the rulers of romance, money and partnership placed at the root of the year.

Settling is a different question, because it uses the birth chart itself, moved to a new place. In Somerset the Moon, which rules your home, lies close to the Descendant, the angle of partners. Further west it gets closer: Exeter, Plymouth and Penzance tighten it, joining home and partnership more firmly. Going east, to London, Brighton or Norwich, Mars moves onto the Ascendant from the hidden side and the Moon drops away. I think that would be a more driven, more strained life. So my sense is that the West Country suits you better than the east. Abroad, Athens puts Jupiter, your benefic, on the Midheaven, and Johannesburg puts both the Sun on the angle of home and Jupiter on the Midheaven. I offer those as information, not advice. Every line here moves about one degree of longitude for every four minutes of birth time.

How to hold these dates

Please hold this forecast lightly, for one reason above all. Your birth time is not recorded. We worked it out from your own life, and a time between 23:02 and 23:12 fitted your events best, steadily, as each new date was added. But the fit is good rather than certain, and it leaned partly on directions Morin himself would not have used. If your true time were very different, this would be a different chart, and a different year. Primary directions move about one year for every four minutes of birth time. That is why I have not relied on them alone, and why every window here also rests on the solar and lunar returns, which are much less sensitive to it.

A forecast describes pressures and openings. It does not decide anything. I have not predicted, and would not predict, a specific illness, a legal or financial outcome, or the end of anyone's life. Where the year is hard, I have said what it asks of you, not what it will do to you.

A technical note, for the record. The directions use Regiomontanus houses and position circles, as Morin did, the Naibod time key, and direct motion only. Uranus, Neptune and Pluto are left out of the directions, as Morin never knew them, but they are shown in the charts. The solar and lunar returns are cast for Bruton. The figures are drawn for Bath, the nearest town in my place list; the return charts there fall in the same houses.

Questions to sit with

1. Where in your life do you give more than you ask for, and what would fair look like?
2. What kind of partner would you not need to improve?
3. If home came through other people for most of your life, what would it mean to make one yourself?
4. Which commitments would you be glad to put down before Saturn reaches your Ascendant in June?
5. Who are the steady people you could lean on in the summer of 2027?
6. What would you build if you knew it had a year to take root?

When I look at this year as a whole, I see a man being asked to stop holding everything alone.

The first half brings other people towards you, in work and in love. The second half asks you to build something with what arrives: money that is fairly earned, and a home that is properly yours. Between them sits Saturn, which is not a punishment. It is the slow work of making things solid.

Your chart has the Sun strong in the house of home. Something in me says that this is the deepest promise in it. Not the fastest one. But the one that holds.

I hope the year is kind to you, and that you are kind to yourself within it.
